How to Apply

The Rhodes State Admissions application is available online at www.RhodesState.edu or by calling (419) 995-8320.

If you are...	And your goal is...	Step 1: Application Procedures
A New, First-Time in College Student (seeking to enroll after high school graduation or GED completion)	A degree or certificate at Rhodes State or transfer to another college or university.	Submit an admission application along with a $25 application fee. If you have applied within the last two years and did not attend, a new application and fee is not needed. You will need to notify the Office of Admissions of your intent to update your originally requested term of enrollment. Submit your official high school transcript, ACT scores, or GED scores to be considered for Federal Financial Aid. ACT scores may be used to meet college prerequisites.
A Reactivating Rhodes State Student (previously attended and received grades from Rhodes State)	A degree or certificate at Rhodes State or transfer to another college or university.	If you attended Rhodes State in the past, and you received grades, complete a Reactivation Form.
An Incoming Transfer Student (attended another college or university)	A degree or certificate at Rhodes State or planning to transfer to another college or university.	Submit an admission application and the $25 application fee. Submit official transcripts from high school or GED score report to be considered for Federal Financial Aid. Submit official transcripts from previously attended college(s). Mail to: Office of Admissions Rhodes State College 4240 Campus Drive Lima, OH 45804
A High School Student (enrolling in the College Credit Plus (CCP) Program while attending high school)	To take Rhodes State classes while a high school student through CCP.	Submit the CCP application and high school transcripts including ACT scores, if available. The application may be obtained from your school counselor, online, or at Rhodes State.
A High School Student (enrolling in the Concurrent Enrollment Program while attending high school)	To take Rhodes State classes while still in high school through concurrent enrollment.*	Submit an admission application along with a $25 application fee. *Classes taken through concurrent enrollment do not typically count toward high school requirements and are taken at student's expense.
A Non-Degree seeking student (taking classes for career development or personal enrichment)	Personal enrichment or career training.	Submit an admission application along with a $25 application fee. Official transcripts or GED results are not required if you are not seeking a degree.
A Transient Student (attending another college or university and taking Rhodes classes to transfer back to home institution)	A degree or certificate at another college or university.	Submit an admission application along with a $25 application fee. Declare "Transient" and "Non-Degree Seeking" on the application. Academic advising is received at the student's "home" institution. To receive Federal Financial Aid at Rhodes State, a Consortium Agreement must be completed at your "home" college or university.
